Family Of Slain Farmer Plan For Thorough Probing

Will Investigate Story Told By Cleveland University Lovers Over Shooting

YOUTH CONTENTS GIRL ATTACKED

College Boy Under Bond Pending Hearing On Manslaughter Charge

(International News Service)
CLEVELAND, O., Dec. 20.—Private investigators today entered the probe into the "lovers' lane" slaying of a farmer by a college boy.

The family of the victim, Carl Metling, 52-year-old retired farmer, retained private detectives to probe the story told by Britton Young, 21, a law student at Western Reserve University here.

According to authorities, the youth said he shot and killed Metling after the latter allegedly attempted to molest his pretty co-ed companion, Miss Ruth Belter, as the two were parked in an automobile on a lone road in suburban Pepper Pike village.

Frank Metling, a brother of the slain man, in announcing that the victim's family would conduct a separate probe, said:

"I'll prosecute that young man to the last notch. Carl may have been a hot-head, but he wouldn't harm anyone or anything, even an animal."

Youth On Bond
Young, a nephew of Congressman-at-Large Stephen Young and the son of Donald Young, prominent Norwalk attorney, was released under $1,000 bond after he waived preliminary hearing on a manslaughter charge yesterday.

The youth, his congressman-uncle and his father charged that Metling had attempted to attack the girl. Dr. J. B. Belter, prominent Canton, O., physician and father of the co-ed in the case, also alleged that Metling had made improper advances toward his daughter.

It took the patrons of the New Castle free public library a few days to get on to the new rule of three books on a card instead of six, but most of them knew about it now. The new rule was made in order that the books may be borrowed by a larger number of patrons.

A sign on the librarian's desk at the public library asks patrons to cooperate in reducing the number of lost books by checking before leaving the library. This should be done whether the book is private or library property.

Britton D. Young, 21-year-old student of Western Reserve university, and nephew of Congressman Stephen M. Young, of Ohio, has been bound over to the grand jury after admitting the "lovers' lane" slaying of Carl Metling, Pepper Pike village, O., truck farmer and Bible student. Young maintained he shot the farmer when he tried to drag his companion, Miss Ruth Belter, junior at Flora Stone Mather college, Cleveland, O., from his parked car. The college youth declared he was sorry he shot the farmer but he was forced to do it to save the girl.

The house gave concurrence to the amendments by a 187 to 0 vote.

ENGLEWOOD, N. J., Dec. 20.—Their thoughts only for their infant son, Jon, and his "first real Christmas celebration," Col. and Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh today rested in seclusion in the rambling Morrow mansion here after their 2,000-mile air odyssey over four continents and 31 countries.

Guards on every side of the Morrow estate enforced the privacy sought by the famed flying pair after they debarked from their big red and black seaplane off College Point late yesterday, at the conclusion of their journey of five and a half months.

Only a few most intimate friends were admitted to the big, white, colonial-type home.

Dillinger Mob Member Taken In Gun Battle

Ed Shouse And Two Girls Are Arrested At Paris, Illinois

INDIANA STATE TROOPER SHOT

(BULLETIN)
(International News Service)

PARIS, Ill., Dec. 20.—Ed Shouse, 27, member of the notorious John Dillinger terror mob, and two girls were captured here today after a bloody gunfight on the principal downtown street here in which Indiana State Policeman Eugene Teague, 25, of Indianapolis, probably was fatally wounded.

Teague was shot through the head and was believed mortally hit. The battle was fought in front of the friends hotel here.

Sixteen Indiana State Policemen, a number of Paris officers and the local sheriff took part in the fight. Shouse (CQ) surrendered after he had emptied his gun.

The captured desperado was one of the ten convicts who were sent to the Indiana state prison at Michigan City on Sept. 26. He was also accused of being one of the men who participated in the holdup of the jail at Lima, Ohio, Oct. 12 when Sheriff Jess Barber was killed.

Firemen Receive Thrill When Gas In Pump Lets Go

Flames Spout High In Air During Fire At Gasoline Station Last Evening

Firemen from No. 6 and Central Departments received a thrill last evening, when gasoline in a defective pump, which was affixed to a gas pump, burst and flames several hundred feet in the air. No one was injured, however.

The mishap occurred when a blaze started in the pumps of the Triangle Oil Company at 808 W. State street, shortly after 7 o'clock. The fire was caused by a short in the wiring of the pump. Firemen had just arrived on the scene and were using fire foam on the blaze, when gas which had not drained back into the tank underground when the safety valve was turned, let go.

The loss occasioned was around $100.

At 7:45 last evening, firemen were called to the home of R. H. Patterson, of 718 Court street, when occupants of the home became alarmed by an explosion of coal gas in the furnace. The door of the furnace was blown open and smoke filled the home. There was no loss.

Thomas Moon reported to city police that his car was struck in Council Line street by that of Lyle Slater yesterday when the latter got out of the way of the fire chief's car.

Payroll Loans By RFC Seen

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 20.—Congress will authorize direct loans to industry by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, Rep. Joseph Byrnes of Tennessee, Democratic leader of the house, predicted today.

A fund of perhaps $1,000,000,000 for direct loans may be provided when congress is called to extend the loaning power of the huge government agency, now nearing the end of its present resources.

While Byrnes did not announce the proposal, it is known that direct loans were favored by a majority of the directors of the R. F. C. and other powerful administration figures.

Loans would be made to finance pay rolls, to finance the production of goods for which orders already have been received and to aid small industries unable to finance the increased cost of the NRA program.

Approval Of Child Labor Amendment By Legislature Is Forecast

Old Age Pensions, Soldier Bonus, Blind Pensions Among Bills Passed

By G. EVERETT DOYING
International News Service Staff Correspondent

HARRISBURG, Dec. 20.—Pennsylvania's legislature set the stage today for a second reversal of its attitude toward social legislation while both houses crowded down to defeat a large portion of the rest of the proposed social-labor and election reform program.

Ratification of the federal child labor amendment, like the old age pension bugaboo, is slated to clear the legislative hurdles during the special session where previous meetings of virtually the same membership let it die in committee.

To Pass Child Labor Amendment. Both house and senate have ratifying resolutions up for second reading today, with the final passage necessary to place them on the governor's desk apparently assured in one or both houses tomorrow.

In a four-hour session engineered by Rep. Darlington Hoopes, Berks county Socialist, the house voted to discharge the committee holding the Salus (senate) child labor resolution and then put it on the calendar for second reading today.

Four roll calls and the suspension of five house rules were necessary (Continued on Page Two)

Pleas Are Taken In Rausch Cases; Women Are Freed

Final Disposition Made Of Those Arrested For Recent Robberies

WILL BE SENTENCED THURSDAY MORNING

Final disposition of the Rausch robbery cases by the court was made on Tuesday afternoon, when pleas were entered by Frank and Clyde Rausch and Leslie McNeil to charges which were still pending against them. They were convicted in some cases tried last week, but there were several other charges still facing them. It was to these that they entered their pleas.

Walter Rausch and George Zalick, members of the same gang, entered pleas before the cases against the two Rausch boys and McNeil were tried. They attempted to shoulder all responsibility, but the jury which tried the trio could not see that way.

In the cases of Mrs. George Zalick and Mrs. Della Rausch, who were arrested in connection with the cases, District Attorney John Powers entered a nolle prosequi and they were discharged.

Those convicted will be sentenced at sentence court to be held by Judges Hildebrand and Chambers on Thursday morning.

Early Building Plans Revealed By Razing Martin Gantz School

As the CWA workmen uncovered the walls and ceilings of the old Main Gantz school, the quality of the materials that went into the building became apparent. Splendid white pine joists, probably from virgin stands of white pine in the Pennsylvania woods, huge hand hewed oak beams that look like ships timbers, made of brick and no cement or steel at all.

The bricks are of the old fashioned hand made, soft, variety and break easily when they are dropped. All the mortar is a pure lime mortar for the use of cement for mortar had not yet come into fashion. The beams holding the floors up seem to be as strong as the day they were put in, and hand hewed though they are true and square.

Many suggestions are being proffered for the use of the marking stone set in the front wall of the second floor. One of the suggestions that seems to have merit is that it be mounted on a native boulder and placed on the Senior High School lawn as a memento of the first school ever to be built in New Castle.

The work of tearing down the old building is progressing but because much of the material is to be saved for other uses, the speed will be retarded somewhat. Brick and stone and lumber will be used for work in public parks.

Army Bomber Is Forced To Land At Airport Here

Lights Turned On Last Night To Aid Plane In Making Landing

Floodlights purchased by the city for the New Castle airport again proved their usefulness Tuesday evening when they were turned on and Lieut. M. C. McKinnon in a United States army bomber was able to descend at the local airport.

Fog, it is said, caused the lieutenant to pick a landing place and when the motor of his ship was heard, the lights were turned on by an attaché of the airport. The plane is at the airport and the flyer is registered at The Castleton. The ship was enroute west.

The monoplane has a dual motor and retractable landing gear. In the vicinity of the airport early today the fog ceiling, it appeared, was no higher than the telephone poles.

Police Hunting Trace Of Noted Wall St. Plunger

Jesse L. Livermore Disappears Mysteriously On Tuesday Afternoon

WIFE NOTIFIES POLICE OFFICERS

Fear Livermore May Have Been Taken By Kidnapping Gang

By JAMES L. KILGALLEN
International News Service Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, Dec. 20.—Jesse L. Livermore, noted Wall Street plunger, was mysteriously missing today and the object of a wide-spread police hunt. And—almost immediately after the alarm clattered over the teletype machines in police stations—the United States government stepped into the investigation on the theory Livermore may have been kidnapped.

The federal authorities in recent months have made a fine record in kidnapping cases, culminating in their smashing success in sending six persons to prison for life in the Charles E. Urschel abduction in Oklahoma City.

Vanishes Mysteriously
Livermore, who began his market operations with a $5 bill and ran it up into the millions, vanished as mysteriously as Justice Joseph Force Crater.

There were no clues. It was his bride of nine months, the former Mrs. Harriet Noble, who informed police she believed her husband had been kidnapped. He was last seen at three p. m. yesterday.

Previous kidnapping threats had alarmed both the Livermores. At one time the famous market speculator had had a police guard to insure his safety.

In groping for a clue the police and federal agents studied the activities of the missing broker immediately preceding his disappearance. Livermore spent several hours yesterday at his offices, 120 Broadway. He then returned to the Livermore's triplex apartment at 1100 Park avenue.

He spent several minutes in conversation with his young and attractive wife. Then without saying where he was going he arose to leave.

Mrs. Livermore accompanied him (Continued on Page Two)

More Projects Are Approved

Formal approvals for three projects were received today in the office of CWA Administrator L. B. Round.

The three are the George Washington junior high school grading, the widening of roads in Big Beaver township and the widening of a run in Enon Valley. Previously approval had been received by telegraph for the George Washington junior high work.

More men were put to work on a number of jobs today, bringing the total on all work of about 1050. The work of razing the Martin Gantz school is progressing with most of the men thus far being skilled workers. Calls for labor will be made within a day or two.

The request for men to work on the Washington junior high school has been made and if the present wet weather moderates the work will start yet this week.

GUARD WESTERN SLAYER FROM LYNCHERS

San Francisco Opera Singer Is Slaying Victim

Emilia Da Prato, 26, Slain By Jealous Lover On Eve Of New York Debut

Remove Prisoner From South San Francisco To Prevent Lynching

(International News Service)

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 20.—Fearing lynching threats shouted by an angry group of relatives and friends of Emilia Da Prato, 26, beautiful opera singer killed on the eve of her New York debut, police today had transferred her confessed killer under heavy guard to the San Mateo county jail.

The admitted slayer, Umberto Guisti, 37, former grand opera impresario, said he shot Miss Da Prato because she chose to continue her career unhampered instead of marrying him.

The girl's brother, Versco Da Prato, a school teacher, and her uncle, E. W. Cortesi, broke through the police cordon and attempted to strike Guisti as he was being transferred to the Redwood City jail, 20 miles south of here.

Brother Incensed. Impassioned friends of the opera singer, known here as the "songbird of South San Francisco," hurled cries of "lynch him!"

"I'll see you hang for this," shouted Da Prato.

Police Chief Louis Belloni of South San Francisco declared he transferred Guisti to the county jail at Redwood City because he was "apprehensive" of what might have happened had the confessed slayer been kept in the South San Francisco jail in view of the recent lynching of two kidnapers at San Jose, Cal.

He admitted that high feeling had been aroused over Miss Da Prato's murder. The girl's family declared, according to Belloni, that yesterday was the second attempt made on the girl's life by Guisti within a week.

downstairs as was her custom. She noticed the limousine parked in front of the door with the chauffeur waiting. She said goodbye to her husband in the foyer and did not wait to see him leave the building. That was a three o'clock yesterday afternoon. Livermore has not been seen since.

Detectives were summoned to the Livermore home last night. Mrs. Livermore, who was formerly a concert singer, became alarmed because she had not received the hourly telephone calls her husband had been in the habit of making lately.

And then—at 2:32 o'clock this morning—the police sent out a confidential message over the teletype system, instituting a search for Livermore, which in incredibly short space of time spread to five states, and soon had the co-operation of the federal authorities.

Known as "Boy Plunger" Livermore's age was given as 56 in the terse alarm sent out by the police. He was once known as "the boy plunger" who made and lost more than $3,000,000 in a single day in audacious Wall street operations.

Mrs. Livermore was in a panicky frame of mind in her handsome Park avenue apartment today as the authorities bent their energies to locate her husband. She is the former Mrs. Harriet Noble. They were married in Geneva, Ill. She is 38 years old.

The police said today that Liver-more had taken precautions against kidnapping, but they did not disclose the details. It was learned, however, that in 1929, after Arthur Barry, the jewel thief who once took part in a $100,000 robbery of the Livermore estate on Long Island, Livermore hired a bodyguard. A $250,000 breach of promise suit was brought against Livermore last said to be an actress. Details of the charges have not been made public. Livermore filed a general denial.

It was also learned that a month ago the state tax commission filed a judgment in superior court against Livermore, among other things, for alleged defaults in the payments of state income taxes. The judgment entered against Livermore was for $154,675.

Friday, December 22, according to Pa New's calendar, is the first day of winter and also the shortest day of the year. Evidently that zero weather of several weeks ago was not winter weather at all, but just a warning of what to expect.

Salvation Army kettles on the streets for Christmas donations, are not being given attention deserved by the public, Pa New is informed. Christmas shoppers and others down town should avail themselves of the chance to aid this worthy holiday enterprise.

More community Christmas trees are being put in place in the city and decorated for the holidays. Weather conditions today are anything but of a Christmas tinge, but they will probably improve before the end of the week.

Pa New notes that the old Knox truck is in service again at Central station. It has been kept in reserve for an emergency, due to the fact that the 20-year old engine goes haywire, when needed the worst, and No. 4 truck, supplanted by the old engine from No. 2, at the Fourth Ward station, has been used in its place. Fire Chief Stockman would probably appreciate it deeply if Santa Claus would drop a nice modern pumper in his stocking at Christmas time.

Accompanying the order was a statement from the president pointing out that since last July approximately 70 per cent of the workers who eventually will come under the codes have already been brought in.

In issuing the order, Mr. Roosevelt slashed through red tape by providing that exhibits of the blue eagle of the NRA in any window will of itself constitute the employers' compliance with the blanket code extension. This, Mr. Roosevelt explained, would apply not only to those who agree to the extension, but also to those who are not now under the blanket code but wish to go under it as of the beginning of the new year.

Attempts may be made in the senate to send the Craig (house) child labor resolution back to committee to die although the dramatic action of the house which makes it virtually certain that the amendment will be ratified may stay any such move in the upper house as futile.

Liberal Measures Passed. Minimum wage legislation for women and children is dead in senate committee. It cannot be reported now and passed finally by Thursday. A similar fate has been meted out to the more important workmen's compensation act amendments, anti-eviction bills, slum clearance measures, permanent registration for Philadelphia and all third-class cities, various other proposed election law reforms which were designed to put teeth into existing statutes, the full crew train bill and similar measures.

Public Works Measure. The administration's public works program, carrying $14,000,000 for educational and welfare buildings, is out on the house calendar and will be ready for final action tomorrow. It has passed the senate. Creation of a milk control board is provided in another senate bill to receive final action in the house today.

Bills regulating private banking and permitting state banks to become members of the federal deposit insurance corporation are advancing in the house, with final action scheduled tomorrow, while the senate is to consider on second reading the Weideman bill permitting establishment of branch banks.

FORMER LOCAL GIRL WEDS IN AKRON, OHIO

Word has been received here, giving the marriage details of a former local girl which will be of interest to her many friends and relatives. The principals, Miss Gertrude Elizabeth Harris, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Harris, of Akron, Ohio, and Chester E. Shiers, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Shiers of the same city, were united on Saturday, November 25, 1933 at Cumberland, Md. The Rev. J. Baughman, pastor of the Methodist church of Cumberland, officiated.

The bride, a graduate of North High at Akron, was born in New Castle and resided here for some time. She is a niece of Mrs. Ann Harris of Highland avenue, and has been feted at a number of lovely parties on her frequent visits to this vicinity.

They have taken up their residence at Copley, Ohio, where the groom who graduated from Copley High, is established in business as owner of a flourishing gasoline station.

Of double interest is the fact that on Sunday, November 26, this year, Mr. Shiers' sister, Miss Carolyn Shiers of the same address, and also a graduate of Copley High, became the bride of Vilbur M. Long, son of Mrs. Robert Long of Spencerville, Ohio.

Their ceremony took place in the parsonage of the North Hill Methodist church at Akron, O., with the Rev. M. A. McQueen, pastor, reading the nuptial service. The groom is a graduate of Ohio State University.

Mr. Long and his bride left immediately after the ceremony for St. Petersburg, Florida, where they will spend the balance of the winter months. They too, are known in New Castle.

WINE AND WAR DEBTS

ON December 15, a payment of $82,000,000 on its debt to the United States was due from our sister republic of France. Some time ago, according to Washington dispatches, our government notified the French authorities that this payment was due. This was done, not because we believed the French were unaware of the debt, but simply to keep the record straight. So far as we can find out there was no reply from Paris regarding the sum due. Since other payments are in default, and since the French government has been making no provision in its budget for any sums due the United States, it may be taken for granted that the country into which we poured millions in money, and thousands of soldiers for its defense at a critical period of its history, does not intend to pay any more on this debt, in spite of the fact that all of the debt incurred before the armistice has long ago been cancelled.

It is not to be taken, however, that France has forgotten us. This is by no means the case. In fact, since the repeal of the Eighteenth amendment French interest in the United States has been greater than ever. This has come about through no desire for neighborliness, but because France wants to sell us as much wine as she can induce us to take.

So, we are told in dispatches from Washington, the French ambassador called at the State Department a few days ago, asking for concessions for the importation of French wine into the United States. Of course, we are now getting some wine from Paris but the French want us to take a great deal more. What they want us to do is to forget about what they already owe us, and spend more money with them. This time they will give us champagne instead of promises, though of course they expect to make a fat profit on the deal.

It is said that at the State Department the French ambassador was informed that the United States could not increase its French wine quota unless the French increased their purchases of agricultural products in the United States. This is a step in the right direction, but we think it would have been advisable to go much further.

We were told that one of the reasons for repealing the Eighteenth amendment was that it would revive industry in the United States, that it would help the grape industry in the United States and would create a new market for the grain of the American farmer. Without going into the pros and cons of this proposition, the amendment is now repealed and certainly Uncle Sam ought to give the American grower the benefit of the experiment.

Unless we are mistaken, the public is going to hear a lot about the connection between liquor imports and foreign debts when Congress meets again.

FOR A SAFE CHRISTMAS

Fires—Falls—Fun. Here are the three great accident hazards of Christmas. Each year they take a toll in life, health and property that is more horrible because it can be so easily avoided.

Of them all, fire is perhaps the greatest and most common hazard. Special rules, simple enough in themselves, and yet often broken, apply to the holiday season. Candles should not be used either on the tree or in windows. All tree decorations should be non-inflammable. Those made of celluloid, cotton and paper should be avoided or kept at a sizeable distance from flame. Electric lights for the tree should be of good make, and of very small candle power. The wiring should be carefully inspected before it is used. Lastly, the tree should be kept away from any fireplace and should be removed from the house within the week following Christmas. After that, the needles dry out and become highly inflammable.

Care and caution will eliminate the "holiday falls." Under the heading of fun, hazards are listed accidents caused by dangerous toys and unwise methods of celebrating. Sharp knives, tin horns with ragged corners, etc., when given to children, invite disaster.

It's easy to have a safe Christmas—and it's a lot more fun. Plan yours that way.

REFORMS NEEDED

That present laws and rules of criminal procedure in many ways favor the accused and work for the defeat of justice frequently has been emphasized in connection with the crime wave in the United States.

Recent mob action in many parts of the country has given the fact additional emphasis and caused revival of demands that reforms be instituted.

Criminal procedure varies in the different states. The American Law Institute sometime ago made a study of this and on the basis of its survey formulated a model code intended to be a guide to the states in reforming their laws and procedure. Renewed attention now is being directed to the institute's study and to its code.

Numerous illustrations of how criminals are favored by the laws of court procedure in the different states were given by the institute in making its report. Some states, it was found, give more peremptory challenges of jurors to the defense than to the prosecution. Under the model code, this would be abolished and each side would have the same number of challenges—three for misdemeanors, six for felonies and 10 for capital cases. Other reforms would include lessening the advantage given a defendant by a hung jury. This would be accomplished by permitting verdicts to be returned by a two-thirds jury vote in less than penitentiary cases and five-sixths in felonies. The unanimity rule would not be disturbed in capital offenses.

To take care of emergencies such as may be caused by the disqualification or death of a juror, the model code provides for the selection of alternate jurors. This feature already has been adopted by several states in an effort to prevent delays and the expense of new trials.

It does seem time for laws to be revised and procedure reformed in ways to give society a break in protecting itself against criminals. The delay and often the frustration of justice, made possible by advantages now given the accused, has been a factor in mob violence.

It's "pernicious political activity" when a Republican postmaster shows an active interest in the affairs of his party, but when the head of the entire postal system devotes the greater part of the time for which the public pays him to build up machines and otherwise advance the interests of the Democratic party, it is something else again.

All Of Us

BY MARSHALL MASLIN

DO YOU LIKE "PERFECT DICTION?"

Another radio announcer has received a medal for "perfect diction" . . . and though, as far as I know, I never heard him talk, I'm sure I wouldn't like his voice if I did hear it.

I've heard those prize winners before and I know how they sound. . . I've heard David Ross, for example, and I'll agree with everything the judges say about him and his voice, but its inflection and its timbre and the perfection of his pronunciation. But just the same, I don't like it. I might like HIM, but I don't like the tones that come out of the radio when he's talking.

Why don't I like his voice? . . . Well, it's hard to explain, as all prejudices are, but I'm sure my objections are sound. Those people with "perfect diction" sound too smooth, too exact, too perfect. Their talk is a rebuke instead of a stimulus to the rest of us, who never had our voices cultivated and who drop our g's and slur some of the syllables in our words and use a little slang and let localisms slip into our vocabulary.

Whenever I hear a perfect diction, I feel as the human philosopher, William James, felt when he attended a great chautauqua meeting and came away dissatisfied because everything was so pure and so earnest and so perfect. I want a voice with a slight flaw in it. I want a voice with some roughness, naturalness, homeliness in it. I want a voice that is the means to an end and not the end itself. I want an American voice that has in it the earth and the wind and the rain and the sun and youth and age and suffering and laughter and tears and experience and the friendliness of common men.

I DON'T want any sandpapered, pruned off, waxed and polished "perfect diction." . . . And when any of that "perfect diction" starts flowing like honey and cream and oil over the air to me, I can always reach out, quietly, without emotion, and turn a little knob and be all by myself again. . . . Silence is better.

OLD AGE

Old age is bought with trouble and with care.
Men pay with heartaches for their silver hair.

One cannot reach to seventy without pain.
There's much to suffer length of life to gain.

Who meets a gray-beard smiling as he goes,
Looks upon one acquainted well with woes.

Men cannot reap so full a sheaf of years
Without full knowledge of grief's bitter tears.

Ere he can come to Age he first must bear
Time's ever changing round of fretful care.

Must cope with disappointment and with doubt;
Lose what he gains and keep his courage stout.

I know this care which frets me now must pass.
Winter will leave and spring renew the grass.

Some smiling old man sitting in his chair
Has borne such burdens as are mine to bear.

And still he finds life good, and so shall I
When these perplexing days have traveled by.

STORY-TELLING PESTS.

Are you a story-telling pest in the place where you work?

At every opportunity do you endeavor to make fellow workers listen to some of your stories?

To make it even worse do you attempt them in dialect?

As soon as you get down to the office in the morning you start in to regale those present with stories you "heard last night."

Most workers are mighty busy in these days of curtailed forces.

If you are not, it is because you are failing to fulfill the requirements of your job.

Your fellow workers haven't time to listen to you.

You think it may add to your popularity.

But it might surprise you if you knew what your co-workers think of this proclivity of yours.

If you don't want to work you need not interfere with those who are really in earnest in meeting the requirements of their jobs.

Your sense of humor may be merely silliness.

Your stories may be flat and pointless, or dirty and disgusting.

Everyone gets tired of stories that depend upon filth to put them over.

Symposium Of Editorial Views By Newspapers Of Nations On Important Subjects As Edited By Consolidated Press AssociationFlying Lindberghs Inspire Sentiment And AdmirationApproach To Perfection In Sky Navigation Presented As Example For Others Who Would Lay
Foundations Of Success

There is much sentiment in American comments in the facts of Col. and Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh in crossing the North and South Atlantic and exploring wild regions of South America. Precision and sureness in flight arouse admiration while the foundations of the Lindbergh skill in devotion to their work are held up as examples to others who would succeed. Mrs. Lindbergh's share in the event is linked with her distinction as the first woman to fly the South Atlantic.

"They have carried on in a manner that can only be described as magnificent," declares the JERSEY CITY JOURNAL with the query: "Who can measure the good of the great example of clean living and glorious achievement of this young couple, beloved of their home land and of its neighbors about the seven seas?" With a tribute to the Lindbergh power of concentration, that paper concludes: "Let the man who is glad to close his desk at night and go home to read his favorite books, or see his favorite movie actress, refrain from envying the success of such men as Lindy. Their success was dearly bought. They must, because of the overwhelming urge within them, live a life of work, eat, sleep—though they may be able to afford pleasures and diversions. Although variety may be the spice of life, it is not the way to success."

Observing an "adorable couple," the DANBURY NEWS-TIMES calls Col. Lindbergh "The greatest flyer of all time, the flyer who is as sure as a bird," and adds that "his wife is the true mate of a flyer." Acclaiming his "triumph of the air," the News-Times continues: "We see here another ideal. Was not Mrs. Lindbergh, operating the wireless in the colonel's plane, more truly at home than many of us have been thousands of miles away wondering when the man of her choice would land again in America. Shall we call this flight, among other things, a triumph for the American home? Shall we think of it as one expression of a successful marriage?"

"The flying Lindberghs," according to the ABILENE REPORTER, "have only one continent to master. Some day they may fly to Australia. It isn't much of a continent, as continents go, but it offers the adventurous aviator plenty of excitement." The Reporter comments on the prospect: "We imagine that many thrills remain ahead of the Lindberghs. Together they have covered a lot of territory, flown in all sorts of weather, and dared every danger. That they have come through it all unscathed is a tribute alike to their airmanship and the safe and sane development of aviation in general."

Precision shown, combined with scientific knowledge of the requirements, is lauded by the PROVIDENCE BULLETIN and the KEOKUK DAILY GATE CITY.

THE WASHINGTON EVENING STAR avers: "The time has passed when their admirers tremble for them as they set forth on some difficult journey. They have performed so many seemingly miracles that the public no longer has any doubt of their capacity. But when

To Plant Trees At Pymatuning

Million Seedlings Will Be Set Out On Property Surrounding Reservoir

SPRUCE AND PINE WILL PREDOMINATE

HARRISBURG, Dec. 20.—The largest individual tree planting operation ever undertaken in Pennsylvania is scheduled for next spring at the 16,000-acre Pymatuning reservoir in Crawford county, construction of which was begun in October, 1931, and is now nearing completion. Secretary Lewis E. Staley of the Department of Forests and Waters announced today.

One million trees will be set out on the State-owned property surrounding the reservoir site. The reforestation project is under the direct supervision of Ralph J. Ferris, field engineer of the Department of Forests and Waters, with headquarters at Linesville.

The kinds and quantities of trees to be planted are Norway spruce, 200,000; white spruce, 100,000; white pine, 100,000; red pine, 300,000; pitch pine, 200,000; Scotch pine, 50,000 and Japanese larch, 5,000. All will come from State nurseries.

To contain the one million trees requires about 850 acres of land. At the present time 600 acres have been prepared and the additional acreage required will be made available prior to the planting season next April.

Last spring some 325,000 seedlings were planted at the Pymatuning reservoir. By the end of next year's planting season practically all the available land suited for growing trees will have been reforested.

Some of the wintry days members of city council and officials of the Pennsylvania Power company will get together and it then will be known whether or not the city is to own or not own Cascade Park. The city operated the park during 1933 and under the plan any surplus was to go toward paying taxes in Shengango township which amount to almost $5,000, a year. The park proved self sustaining.

City hall will be thronged with salesmen after the first of the year. For instance there will be salesmen who will tell the merits of the trucks they sell, others will tell the benefits the city will derive by using the kind of fire hose they have to offer and additional salesmen will describe the speed and durability of automobiles—all of which it is said the city needs.

Owen Fox is in charge of improvements at Gaston park and W. V. Tyler has charge of quarrying in Ray street. The men who have been working on the Croton avenue stonewall have worked under the supervision of J. K. McQuiddy, and C. C. Coulthard has been watching things at Cascade Park.

The appropriations for 1933 were: Public affairs, $82,654; accounts and finance, $26,770; public safety (fire department, health department and electric department), $186,680; streets and public improvements (engineers bureau), $49,715; parks and public property, $44,248 and miscellaneous, $16,200; or a total of $406,276. The tax levy here during 1933 was 7 3/4 for general revenue, two mills for sinking fund and 1-2 mill for library purposes.

One of the men who can tell in a chair and watch the way things will go is none other than Clayton Reeves, who served as head of the streets department and later as head of the public safety department. He may not be an office holder but he is interested and his influence is sought by more than one.

AROUND CITY HALL

Pa Newc will have paid practically all his bills for 1933 before bells ring in the New Year of 1934, according to City Director of Finance Albert A. Hoyland. Recently he sponsored a plan which was adopted by council which resulted in 30 percent of city employees wages being paid in negotiable paper. As a result he said today that all bills, excepting those owed to the Pennsylvania Power company and the New Castle Water company have been paid. The city owes these two utilities about $12,000 and he hopes to be able to perhaps send them a negotiable paper before 1934. The negotiable paper issued to employees draws six percent interest and is redeemable 60 days from issuance.

Earl Wimer, controller-elect, has visited the finance bureau several times and like the councilmen-elect will be sworn into office by Mayor Charles B. Mayne, January 1. No doubt the incoming controller will be provided with plenty of information pertaining to his office by the outgoing controller, Phil Greer.

Compilation of the appropriations for 1934 will be no child's play in the opinion of councilmen and one of them, D. O. Davies, is ready to sharpen his pencil and go to work immediately. Considerable new equipment is needed. The assessed valuation for taxation purposes is down. Council, it is known, does not want to raise the millage.

Like a well trained athlete who is ready for the fray is Joe Alexander. For years he has occupied the sidelines, watched the game and finally broke in and he's ready for the set. He's on edge because recently he inquired as to when council would work on the budget. Both B. F. Butler and he will be present.

The Beaver County possibility is Attorney Louis E. Graham, several times district attorney of Beaver County and under the Hoover administration Federal District Attorney for the Pittsburgh district. He ran in 1926 but was opposed by the Craig faction in Beaver County and lost to Dr. J. Howard Swick the incumbent.

Graham's candidacy seems to have passed the rumor stage and appears to be a very good possibility. The other Lawrence County Republican whose name is mentioned is O. P. Brown of New Castle. He served a term as school director and was a delegate to the National Republican convention in Chicago in 1920.

Members of the Tigers Club are distributing tickets to the boys and girls of the district. Each youngster presenting a ticket Thursday, will receive a bag full of candies, orange, apple and other goodies. Joe Bordano, chairman of the committee in charge, announced today that everything is in readiness for the occasion. T. C. Richards, James L. ## More Rumors In Congress Race

County May Offer Two Contestants For Democratic Nomination

REPORT OTHERS TO SEEK G. O. P. PLACE

While it has been assumed in the 26th District that Attorney Samuel Wilson of Beaver County would be the Democratic candidate for Congress in 1934, that assumption may be entirely wrong, according to local Democrats who appear to have some inside information. Recently a meeting of Democrats was held at which the subject of Congress was brought up and the feeling there seemed to be that Wilson should not be the candidate.

It was felt then and is felt now that in the campaign of 1932 Wilson had a chance to win over his Republican opponent and that either he did not exert himself to the full or failed to take advantage of what appeared to be an opportunity. For this reason it is felt that he should give way to another candidate in the coming elections.

If this is true and the source of this information seems to be eminently reliable, the way would seem to be open for a Lawrence County Democrat to make the race. While no candidates were advanced by the authority for the statement concerning Wilson, two men come to mind as being possibilities. Attorney Joseph Humphrey of Ellwood City and Tad Shields of New Bedford.

Mr. Humphrey has been active in Democratic politics but has never held public office. Mr. Shields was a county commissioner from 1920 to 1924 and was a valuable officer. His particular hobby is taxation and in the past twenty years has made a study of methods of taxation.

In the meantime candidates for the Republican nomination are increasing. Two have been mentioned in the past week one from Beaver County and one from Lawrence County.

The Beaver County possibility is Attorney Louis E. Graham, several times district attorney of Beaver County and under the Hoover administration Federal District Attorney for the Pittsburgh district. He ran in 1926 but was opposed by the Craig faction in Beaver County and lost to Dr. J. Howard Swick the incumbent.

Secretary Hull Refuses To Sign

Hull Refuses To Sign Feminine Equality Declaration
At Pan-American Conference

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Dec. 20.—The provisional committee of the Pan-American conference today confronted the administration as the result of Secretary of State Hull's refusal to sign a feminine equality declaration at the Pan American conference at Montevideo.
Providing there should be no distinctions based on sex in the laws and practices relating to nationality of the nations which signed, the declaration was approved by 16 of the 20
nations present at the conference.
America's unwillingness to adhere, it was explained at the state department, was based on the fact that American laws are not yet entirely free from sex discriminations and that pending congressional action on this question it was thought best not to bind the administration's hand by adhering to any broad declaration at the Pan American conference.

Capital Board To Hear Stone Story

Congressman Swick Carries
Sandstone Cause To Award
Group Today

Congressman J. Howard Swick and J. L. Maddocks, representative of the U. S. Treasury Department at Washington, were expected to go before the department board of awards at the capital today to review in detail the New Castle post office stone difficulties.
Mr. Swick is expected to ask the board to modify its decision of some months ago that brought about a change from sandstone to limestone in the building's construction. The plea will ask that sandstone be specified for the ashlar work on the rear of the building and limestone for the cornices and carved work.
It was Mr. Maddocks who accompanied the congressman to Cur-wensville, Pa., last week to make an inspection of the sandstone quarry.
They found that sufficient stone could be quarried for the specified portions.
The board of awards has the final say-so as to the requested change.

Daily Digest

It is the stuff myths are made of—legends, folk-lore and all the tall stories that adorn the precious pages of literature. It might have been a fabulous roc, huge enough to carry off an elephant to feed its young; or harpy, hovering about in readiness to devour the souls of the dead; or was it a valkyrie conducting a hero to Valhalla? Familiar as airplanes are to us, we still pause and watch these wonders of the air, intelligible though they are to our informed minds. Who would not exchange for a moment with the Indians of the virgin South American forests to get the thrill they must have had? And who knows how soon the route Lindbergh just traveled will become a regular air line, with landing fields, fueling stations and beacons; a direct route to the heart of the Amazon?

GAME IS CANCELLED

Engineers Elect New Officers At Castleton Meeting

New officers were elected at a meeting of the Engineers' society of New Castle conducted in The Cas-force. Officer McMullen is well trained in fingerprinting and his knowledge of the subject has proven of great use in a number of instances to the New Castle police organization. He is able, as he proved subject in a manner plain and intensely interesting.

Chief of Police John F. Haven was present and explained to the society the great help radio equipment on the police car cruisers could be. The engineers were of his opinion and passed a resolution to write a letter to the mayor and council giving support to the movement and suggesting that it be fully investigated, and reported on favorably, if possible.

BOY SCOUTS

SIPLE'S LETTER COMES
High tribute to the value of Boy Scout training is paid in a farewell letter written by Paul A. Siple, Erie, the scout who accompanied Admiral Byrd's first Antarctic expedition of 1928-30, and who is now aboard the "Jacob Rupert" nearing the South
Polar continent for a second time.
This time Siple sailed as a senior scientist with the post of chief biologist.

Siple's letter, written on shipboard, was received by Dr. James E. West, the chief scout executive and editor of Boys' Life, a scout magazine. Dr.
West personally sent a copy to Scout Executive Herbert G. Horton.
Writing of his experiences on his first trip to the South Polar region,
Scout Siple wrote:
"Down on the ice there was no opportunity to study merit badges
As I had paid particular attention to merit mades in the field of biology and nature study, I became interested in the biological work of the expedition. I was soon appointed as taxidermist and brought back many skins of seals, penguin and living birds."
Siple's letter went on to praise the part scouting has played in his life.

Lindberghs May Live On Coast

PASADENA, Cal., Dec. 20.—A rumor that Col. and Mrs. Charles
A. Lindbergh are planning a secret and quiet visit to Pasadena this

Japanese Planning Manchukuoan Empire

China Convinced That Japan Is Ready To Set Up Asiatic Empire

Sovereignty Of Chinese Republic Will Be Endangered, Is Belief

By JOHN GOETTE
International News Service Staff Correspondent
(Copyright, 1933, By International News Service)

PEIPING, Dec. 20.—The Chinese government is convinced that Japan intends to establish a Manchukuo empire on the first of January, proclaiming Henry Pu-Yi, president dictator of the new state as emperor.

This was learned by International News Service Tuesday as Chinese officials took all possible measures to forestall a Manchu restoration, which they feel would endanger the sovereignty of the Chinese republic.

New Asiatic Empire
As proof of their contention that Japan is moving swiftly toward creation of a new Asiatic empire to bulwark her position on Asiatic soil, Chinese officials pointed to week-end occupation of strategic points in Chahar province by Japanese and Manchukuo troops.

They referred particularly to seizure of points along the eastern border of Chahar, adjoining Manchukuo and directly north of Jehol, which is also in Japanese hands. Ho Ying-Ching, Chinese minister of war, called on M. Shibayama, Japanese military attaché here, demanding immediate evacuation of Japanese troops from these points. Whether he protested verbally against any attempts to cloak Pu-Yi with an imperial mantle could not be learned.

Japan has consistently denied any intentions of creating a Manchukuo empire or of interfering in any way with the domestic policies of the new state, holding it was created "by the will of the Manchurian people."

Imperial Restoration
Chinese sources, however, charge

the Manchurians are being held under Japanese thrall and insist that Pu-Yi's appointment as president-dictator was merely a stepping stone to an imperial restoration.

Pu-Yi will come naturally by his mantle of purple if it falls on his shoulders. He is the far-famed "boy emperor" of China, who reigned for a few years in his early youth before the fall of the celestial empire under the imperial title of "Hsuan Tung."

When the republic was proclaimed, he fled to the international concession at Tientsin, where he remained in obscurity until abducted by the Japanese and rushed to Manchukuo aboard a warship to take his place at the head of the new state.

Liberty Grange Christmas Party

On January 3 the Pomona grange will meet in Liberty hall and have the installation of Pomona officers.

LIBERTY GRANGE NOTES

COWS PAY YOUTH'S COLLEGE BILLS

Something like Mohammed and his mountain, Clyde Wilson, 21, of Green Forest, Ark., couldn't get a college education on his farm, so he moved the farm to the campus. He trades and sells fresh milk for his expenses, and is saving a little on the side.

Night School Enjoys Party

Night School Classes At Lincoln And Garfield Have Fine Time

Some 100 or more persons manifested much enthusiasm on Tuesday night in the Lincoln and Garfield school auditorium, when the attendants of the Americanization classes held a party.

Frank Leonard, one of the instructors, who took over the master of ceremony assignment, cleverly handled the role. Music, vocal numbers, dancing, guitar and mandolin music, speeches and refreshments composed the program. The party was a success in every detail due to the efforts of the Frank Leonard, Harry Harris and Gates Griffith, instructors in the classes.

The following committee was instrumental in the success of the affair: Tony Audino, chairman, Fred Dominick, Louis DePaolo, Nancy Brisci, Ida Simone, Adeline Bolpe, Antonetta Francis, Mary Sniczek and Mary Kozol.

During the course of the evening, Attorney George Muse delivered an interesting address on "Education." The program presented follows: Pledge of Allegiance—Joe Latava Guitar and Mandolin Music—Ben and Carlo DeCarlo.

Margaret Henry HomeGIFTS WILL BE GIVEN CHILDREN

Around sixty youngsters, who reside in the Crawford Oakridge and Margaret Henry Homes, will be made happy at Christmas, when the Shrine Santa Claus will visit the two homes and distribute gifts as has been their custom in past years.

For a number of years now, the Shrine Santa has visited every home in the Syria Shrine's area, which includes a number of counties in Western Pennsylvania. Prior to Christmas time, the children are asked to express their preference of a gift, and on Christmas eve, Santa Claus appears in person and makes the presentation.

The visit to Crawford Oakridge will be made Saturday evening, at 7:30, when the following group will accompany Santa Claus, C. Ed. Brown, chairman; John B. Bechtel, William H. Dunlap, James R. Long, Russell Melvin, Fred L. Rentz, and Frank S. Hoyt.

The visit to the Margaret Henry Home will occur at 10:30 Sunday night. Headed by Chairman C. Ed. Brown, the committee will consist of Walter DeArment, Jesse Jenkins, Fred L. Rentz, Charles H. Young, Jacob P. Rentz, Frank S. Hoyt.

All other shriners in the city are invited to accompany the members of the committee on these occasions. It is a source of satisfaction to all who visit the homes when the Shrine Santa appears, to note the great happiness which this visitation brings.

Rookies Reach Camp Thomas

Trout Run Boys Are Disappointed; None From New Castle

SOME OF FORESTERS PERFORM IN PLAY

By FRANK BOWES
(Special To The News.)
CAMP LOWELL THOMAS, C. C. TROUT RUN, Pa., Dec. 20.—Camp Thomas experienced an unusual week-end of activity as the new "rookies" arrived to form a complete company, and a dance was held in honor of them.

The New Castle boys regretted that none of the new men were from the home town. The rookies are from Uniontown and Fayette county.

The dance was held in one of the barracks that was not occupied. An orchestra from Williamsport played for the dance. Round and square dances were the evening's enjoyment and at the conclusion of the dance a delicious lunch was served. The girls came from the surrounding towns.

On Monday evening Camp Thomas foresters enjoyed a change of recreation when a drama, "Here Come Three Knights", was presented in Trout Run. The male actors of the cast were chosen from the foresters. The female actors were girls from Trout Run. The play was sponsored by the Presbyterian church and directed by Mrs. Pass.

The camp men who were in the play were Donald Guston, A. Sprout, John Wilson, Richard Houck and George Mogg.

The drama was one of three acts and between scenes several men from camp rendered different acts. James King sang several popular tunes. Joe Edmunds tap danced while Virgil Morrissey played several piano selections.

CAMP THOMAS BRIEFS

"Hymie" Johnson makes a very fine nurse to his friend, Conrad.

First Sergeant Joe Gavaghan will return to Fort Washington on Wednesday.

Most of the New Castle boys expect to return to their homes for one of the two vacations.

Howard Conrad, who has been ill with pneumonia, will be able to be about within the near future.

Ralph Kitchen says his work in the camp hospital is causing him to dream of becoming a doctor.

Richard Houck makes a fine English lord as well as a company clerk. That was revealed in the play "Here Comes Three Knights".

Fifteen Pass Driver's Test

Twenty-Four Persons Take Examination To Operate Auto

Twenty-four applicants for motor vehicle operator's permits took the state examination Tuesday in Sampson street, of whom 15 were passed by the state highway officers conducting the examinations.

The other nine will be given a second chance to pass the examinations next Tuesday.

Those who passed are:
Paul Womer, R. D. 2, Wampum.
Mildred Dodds, R. D. 2, city.
Elizabeth Miller, 103 Harbor street, city.

John Byers, 410 North Mercer street, city.

Alice Waters, Hillsville.
Wayland Miller, Portersville.

Lloyd Simpson, Orwell, O.
Evelyn Grell, Pulaski.

PATROL BELIEVES IN LOCKING CARS

HARRISBURG, Dec. 20.—The Highway Patrol has ample reason to believe that the driver who takes the precaution to lock his car is in little danger of seeing it stolen.

Captain Wilson C. Price, superintendent, today said that in the ten years the Patrol has been operating, none of its cars or motorcycles has been stolen. Allowing only one possibility of theft a day for each machine, he figures this perfect record has been maintained in the face of 1,460,000 chances.

One of the long standing practices of patrolmen is to remove the distributor rotors when leaving their motorcycles.

A quarrel is quickly settled when deserted by one party: there is no battle unless there be two.—Seneca

FRENCH POLICE MAKE ARRESTS OF ALLEGED SPIES

Gigantic Spy Ring Broken

Several Americans Said To Be Among 18 Arrested By French Police As Spies

DETAILS CLOTHED IN RIGID SECRECY

(International News Service) PARIS, Dec. 20. — Several Americans today were reported to be among 18 persons, including several women, who were seized by French police in swift raids in Paris and the provinces which allegedly uncovered "the most extensive spying system threatening Europe since the war."

Climaxing eight months of intensive work, the police in a few hours last night made the arrests, and they promised more in the immediate future.

Utmost Secrecy
The newspaper Le Petit Parisien declared Americans, Poles, Russians, and Frenchmen were implicated in the plot.

Details were clothed in utmost secrecy, the identities of the prisoners and their nationalities being closely guarded. Police charged that espionage ring employs "hundreds of persons" in the interests of "a northern power."

The prisoners, one of whom was said to be the beautiful daughter of a French police commissioner, were imprisoned in widely scattered localities.

The arrests stirred intense excitement in France.
Reports persisted that Americans were involved in the spy ring.

The Governor Says

What Is Going On In Harrisburg—And Why

By GIFFORD PINCHOT
Governor of Pennsylvania

This is being written under a shingled roof.

At the most critical period of the present special session of the legislature, I was unfortunate enough, for my sins, to suffer an attack of shingles. And every one of this lot of shingles has a nail in it. Of course, the shingles is neither serious nor dangerous, but you can take my word for it that what Job had wasn't bolts, but shingles.

The result is that I had to hole up just when I wanted to be fighting tooth and nail for the social legislation before the special session, and for confirmation of my appointees to the public service commission.

But, after all, even the shingles leave some time for quiet, serious reflection. In the ordinary course of events, anyone in the governor's chair doesn't have much time for that. All day long, every day, that job requires one quick decision after another—and no time out.

Just now, if anything could make the affairs of state take a back seat in my mind, it would be the shingles. But even so I can't forget about the house of representatives, the state senate and General Martin.

If you ever had the shingles you know what I mean. And if you didn't, there isn't any way I can describe it except to say that it is in a class by itself. It hurts like Sam Hill.

But I am glad to say that my case is yielding rapidly to treatment and I expect to be back on the job right soon.

One of the things I'm sorriest about is that I couldn't get to Johnstown last Thursday to speak to the Pennsylvania state grange. I particularly wanted to talk to my fellow patrons of the grange about the plan for the taking over by the commonwealth of the $3,000 miles of second class township roads. I wanted to remind the members of the grange that the taking over of 20,000 miles of township roads in this administration has already resulted in the reduction of 4½ million dollars of township taxes for road purposes. This is a 35 per cent reduction.

Besides the tax reduction the farmer has had the benefit of the construction and reconstruction of a large part of the 20,000-mile system. When work now authorized or under way is added to the mileage improved when the system was taken over, it is found that only 7,500 of the 20,000 miles remain unimproved.

Also I wanted the grange to do everything possible to persuade the legislature to take over the remaining township roads so as to make that 35 per cent reduction a 100 per cent reduction, which would mean a further annual tax reduction of $9,000,000 paid by the farmer in road taxes.

And there are plenty of other things I would have liked to have been talking about. But, after all, the main thing is not what I could have said, but what the people will do next fall if the Republican organization kills the legislation the people want. The day of reckoning is what makes even politicians think.

We are getting, you and I, a lot more things out of this legislature than we expected. But there is always room at the top.

Huge Bumpers To Be Moved By Crane

Blocks Of Solid Concrete Weighing Around Forty Tons To Be Shifted

Citizens will be treated to a free exhibition of the power of modern machinery Thursday morning when the Pittsburgh and Lake Erie Railroad company will move three large bumpers near the Union station on East Washington street.

The bumpers are said to weigh around 40 tons each. They were put in at the north-end of switching tracks to prevent the possibility of freight cars being pushed over the end of the tracks to Washington street.

The bumpers are huge affairs of solid concrete, mounted on concrete bases about ten feet square and nearly three feet thick. Workmen have excavated around the bases and have tunneled under the sides for the insertion of grappling hooks. It is proposed to run a huge railway crane on the center track, grasp the bumpers, and move them back about one hundred feet, where excavations have been made to receive them.

The ground where the bumpers now stand is being cleared for the installation of a gasoline station.

On Court House Hill

Upon a petition presented in court by Shenango township citizens, Eugene Houk, was appointed auditor for the township by Judge R. L. Hildebrand. The vacancy occurred by reason of the death of township auditor, David Newton.

A delegation from the Harlansburg high school, in charge of the principal, Porter McCandless, visited the county buildings yesterday. The class is engaged in studying the "Problems of American Democracy," which, it must be agreed, is a pretty big subject. The young people were taken around the different offices, where the duties of each department were explained. One of the sights in which the pupils were greatly interested, was a visit to the county jail, under the leadership of Sheriff Frank Johnston.

Twenty-nine deeds were placed on record at the register and recorder's office last week, as against twenty-eight on the previous week. However some of the deeds each week were those made out by the sheriff so that the number does not accurately portray the activity in real estate. The total amount of mortgages recorded was $22,838, as against $67,000 during the week previous. Of the mortgages recorded, two represented Home Loan owners bonds, the amounts being, $1,684 and $1,750 respectively. Building and Loan mortgages, mostly refinancing, amounted to $12,050. One mortgage was to a trust company for $2,250, and one to a private individual for $1,000.

Sheriff Elect-Edward Pritchard visited the court house offices yesterday where he took pride in exhibiting the gold badge, recently presented to him by his fellow workmen at the Shenango tin mill.

How many congressional and senatorial districts are there in Pennsylvania? The question was raised during a political discussion in the county commissioners office yesterday. Nobody could say, offhand, so Register of Deeds, Thomas Edmonds, had recourse to the library. He found that there are 36 congressional districts and 49 senatorial.

County Treasurer William O. Pitts

yesterday received a check for $29,600 which represents Lawrence county's share of the gasoline tax for the past six months. The money can be used for paying damages for land taken in making or changing roads, and other expenses connected with highways and bridges.

It is said that John D. Seever, who is serving a life sentence in the Western penitentiary for the murder of his wife, Stella Seever, wishes now that he had taken the advice of his attorneys, and entered a plea to another case against him. Seever is thinking about asking for a pardon, but finds that even if he were pardoned, there is still another murder case hanging over him in Lawrence county.

It was on July 29th, 1929, that Seever in company with his wife, Stella Seever, Mrs. Catherine Rodgers, and several others, had a brain storm on the New Castle-Youngstown road, during which he shot and killed his wife and Mrs. Rodgers. A boy in the company was also shot and wounded. After Seever's arrest, an attempt was made to show that he was insane, but a commission found him sane. He was tried on the charge of shooting his wife, and was found guilty of first degree murder, with life imprisonment, recommended by the jury. He was convicted on December 29, 1929 and sentenced by Judge Hildebrand on January 30, 1930. Since being confined in the penitentiary it is said that he has been a model prisoner. Seever's home, at the time of the shooting, was in Cleveland. He was on his way to visit friends in the eastern part of Pennsylvania when the tragedy occurred.

Since signs were posted in the court house forbidding agents and peddlers from taking up the time of the county officials, there has been very little annoyance along that line. About the only persons allowed to do business are the pie and candy merchants. The pie man makes a daily call, many of the employees purchasing little pies for their lunches.

NATIONAL RECOVERY ADMINISTRATION BANKERS' CODE

Regulations Covering Operations of All Banks in Lawrence County, Pennsylvania

EFFECTIVE JANUARY 1st, 1934

1. BANKING HOURS

Banking hours shall be daily from 9:00 a. m. to 3:00 p. m. except that on Saturday they shall be from 9:00 a. m. to 12 noon, and except on days recognized as legal holidays in the State of Pennsylvania, provided that banks located in towns of less than two thousand population may open on Saturday evenings for not more than two hours.

2. CHECKING ACCOUNTS

Adequate balances must be carried in all checking accounts, otherwise a charge for services rendered will be made as follows:—

(a) No charge for any month in which no checks are drawn.
(b) On accounts where the balance in any month falls below $50.00, a minimum charge of 50c will be made. This charge entitles the depositor to issue three checks per month without additional charge. For each check above three, an additional charge of 3c per check will be made on the foregoing accounts. On accounts where a minimum balance does not fall below $50.00, the depositor will be entitled to issue without charge, three checks for each $50.00 of minimum balance up to $500.00. A charge of 3c per check will be made for checks issued in excess of this schedule.
(c) Checking accounts with minimum balances of $500.00 or more will be subject to analysis, and will be charged if carried at a loss.
(d) No interest will be paid on any checking account or demand deposit, except in cases where interest is required by law and is permitted by the Banking Act of 1933.

3. NOT SUFFICIENT FUNDS

A charge of not less than 25c shall be made for each check drawn against an account when funds are not available, including post-dated checks.

4. OVERDRAFTS

Overdrafts should not be permitted, but should they occur, a charge of not less than 25c per item shall be made.

5. CASHIERS CHECKS AND DRAFTS

A charge of at least 10c per hundred dollars, with a minimum of 10c per item shall be made for drafts and cashiers checks when issued to non-customers and to customers whose accounts are on a service-charge basis. This charge is in addition to any tax imposed upon the issuance of such checks or drafts. Unless an adequate balance is maintained, whenever a checking account is used primarily as a means of transferring funds from a local branch or office to a main or division office a service charge shall be made at the rate of 10c per hundred dollars for such transfer.

6. STATIONERY AND SUPPLIES

Only stock forms of checks shall be furnished to customers. A charge covering at least the actual cost shall be made for special printing or numbering on checks, special check book covers, registers, endorsing stamps, and other special items.

7. INTEREST ON SAVINGS AND TIME DEPOSITS

The maximum rate of interest accruing after January 1st, 1934, to be paid by members of this Association on time deposits, savings accounts, and thrift accounts, shall be 2% per annum, compounded semi-annually, except that interest may be paid at a higher rate if in accordance with the terms of any certificate of deposit or other contract lawfully entered into before January 1st, 1934, and in force on that date, and which may not be terminated or modified by the member bank at its option or without liability.

However, no such certificate of deposit or other contract may be renewed or extended unless it be modified to conform to the above provision and every member bank shall take such action as may be necessary, as soon as possible, consistently with its contractual obligations, to modify all such outstanding certificates of deposit and other contracts to conform with the requirements of this paragraph.

No interest shall be paid on fractional parts of a dollar, nor on balances of $5.00 or under. The method of computation of interest on savings accounts shall be as follows: Interest to be computed semi-annually.

Deposits to draw interest from the first of each month. Deposits made during the first five days of any month to draw interest from the first of said month. Deposits made after the fifth day of each month to draw interest from the first of the following month. No interest to be allowed on withdrawals between interest periods. Withdrawals to be deducted from earliest deposit. There shall be a charge of 50c for all savings accounts that are closed within sixty days after opening.

8. LOANS

(a) The rate of interest on loans shall, so far as possible, be uniform. It shall be the policy of members of this Association to confine loans to those maintaining compensating accounts. This policy may be waived in exceptional cases.

(b) All time loans are to be discounted, i. e. interest collected in advance, except where prohibited by law, as in the case of loans to governments or municipalities.

(c) All interest on demand paper to be collected at least quarterly.

(d) The minimum charge on any loan, regardless of size, shall be 50c.

(e) In the case of mortgage loans, all costs, such as the writing and recording of the mortgage, preparing an abstract, or certificate of title, are to be borne by the borrower.

(f) In the case of new loans, it shall be mandatory that the borrower agree to make a regular or periodic reduction at maturity, or in the case of demand loans, at quarterly interest period. This rule is to be applied in all cases, regardless of the size of the loan.

9. PAST DUE PAPER

In the case of past due notes, there shall be a service charge of at least 50c for the first day, and 25c for each day thereafter that the note remains past due.

10. SAFE DEPOSIT AND SAFE KEEPING

All members of this Association owning safe deposit boxes shall make a charge for the rental of same and shall file with the Secretary of the Association, a schedule of rates for various sized boxes. The minimum rate for any safe deposit box shall be $3.00 per annum, exclusive of any tax. The acceptance of securities or papers of value from customers for permanent safe keeping is prohibited.

11. TRANSACTIONS IN SECURITIES

Except in cases where a customer's balance is sufficient amply to compensate the bank for such service, a minimum charge of $1.00 shall be made for the purchase, sale, redemption, deposit, exchange, or transfer of stocks and bonds.

12. CHECKS CASHED OVER COUNTER

On out-of-town checks or drafts, cashed for non-depositors, a charge of 10c per hundred dollars shall be made, with a minimum charge of 10c.

13. COLLECTION OF DRAFTS

On items received for collection direct from drawers, there shall be a charge of 25c per hundred dollars, with a minimum charge of 25c. On drafts received from a bank other than a Federal Reserve Bank, or a correspondent, the charge shall be 15c per hundred dollars, with a minimum charge of 25c. A charge may be imposed on customers' excessive use of out-going drafts.

14. COUPONS

A service charge of at least 5c per coupon shall be made for the collection of all bond coupons, irrespective of amount. This charge shall be obligatory except in cases where a sufficient balance is maintained, adequately to compensate the bank for the service.

15. CONTRIBUTIONS

No member bank shall make an individual contribution to any cause, for any purpose whatsoever, except that after a request for such contribution has been referred to the Association, for uniform action by the members, contributions may be made in the amount agreed to if not contrary to banking laws, or the regulations of supervising authorities.

16. CREDIT INFORMATION

There shall, at all times, be a full interchange of credit information between banks without charge. A minimum charge of 25c shall be made for credit information furnished to others, except in cases where the customer of a bank has directed the inquirer to the bank.

17. PERSONAL BONDS

Under no condition, shall an officer of any bank in this Association sign a personal bond of any kind, nor shall any member bank, directly or indirectly, agree to make a bond of this nature.

In compliance with N. R. A. requirements all banks in Lawrence County will strictly observe the foregoing regulations on and after January 1st, 1934.

The service charges detailed above are considerably less than those imposed upon banks in other parts of Pennsylvania, and this advantage has been obtained for our customers only by continued efforts of our Association.

Printed copies of the code regulations may be obtained from any bank in the county.

We regret the necessity of reducing the interest rate on Time Deposits and Savings Accounts, but we have no alternative, in view of the new and increased taxes on banks, and the unlimited assessments which may be made for the insurance of deposits.

Post Office To Serve Mailers 'Till 8 Tonight

Heavy Rush Anticipated;
Seek To Avoid Last-
Minute Crowds

The New Castle post office will remain open for business tonight until 8 o'clock, Acting Postmaster Richard A. Steen announced. The acting postmaster made his decision in anticipation of a heavy night business and in the hope that much of the last-minute rush mailing of Friday and Saturday would be avoided. Patrons again were warned that to delay their mailing would increase the uncertainty of the delivery of their gifts.

Tuesday Business Fair.
While Tuesday's volume of mail did not quite equal the business of Monday, Mr. Steen reported that a spurt which came late in the day helped to establish a fair record. The post office had no figures to release today.

With Christmas falling on Monday, the need for mailers to deposit their packages as early as possible now can readily be realized. The office force will be idle both on Sunday and Monday, following orders out of Postmaster General James A. Farley's office.

May Need More Extras.
It was expected that additional extras would be hired either today or Friday to help handle the surplus stacks of Christmas cards and parcels. Postmen on residential routes were carrying burdening sacks of mail, while the business district business was not light by any means.

Efficient delivery of city parcel post shipments is made possible through the corps of expert dispatchers on duty at the holiday branch station in a vacant store-room on North Mercer street. It is there that all city parcels are separated and grouped by districts, permitting a rapid distribution of all parcels that come in.

Postal officials say that with the opening of the new post office on the public square, ample room will be provided for the heaviest of Christmas rushes under the one roof. The present building is not commodious enough to handle all the work.

Paul Young and James Dixon of New Galilee, returned home on Saturday from Montana, Pa., where they spent four days hunting deer and brought home a four-point buck weighing 160 pounds.

PARIS CANGEY REPORTED BETTER

It was learned today that the condition of Paris Cangey of South Liberty street, who is in a Rochester hospital, is somewhat better.

Cangey was hurt sometime ago when struck by an automobile on the Monaca-Rochester bridge. It is believed that he will be removed to his home in a few weeks.

More Townships Exceed Roll Call Goal Of Last Year

Some Districts Have Not Yet Reported Receipts For Recent Campaign

Wilmington and Neshannock townships had excellent Roll Call results, according to the report recently made to Secretary Orville Potter of the Lawrence County chapter, American Red Cross, exceeding the fine effort made in 1932.

Wilmington township's roll call drive netted $20 more than the preceding year, due to the contributions of the pupils in several of the schools, notably the Fayette, Poverty Point and Neshannock Falls schools.

The pupils in the Neshannock Township Consolidated school also helped to swell the total from the Neshannock township district.

There are several districts yet to be heard from, and Secretary Potter asks that a report be made as early as possible so that the efforts in the 1933 Roll Call can be tabulated.

First Basketball Game Of Year For New Castle Team

Coach Phil H. Bridenbaugh Is Set Upon Veteran Line-up For Lid Lifter

Game To Start At 8 o'clock At George Washington Junior High Court

New Castle high school basketball team will open its 1933-34 season tonight at the George Washington Junior high floor by meeting a strong New Kensington high quintet. The game will start at 8 o'clock.

This is the first pre-league game of the season for the W. P. I. A. L. runners up last year. Coach Philip H. Bridenbaugh has just about made up his mind that the five veterans from last year will start the game tonight.

Veteran Team
Captain Lester "Bus" Reiber will be at his old station on riving guard and Walter "Powerhouse" Komink will be at the stationary guard post. "High-Pockets" Kelly will be at the center post, and Batley and Archie Ridley will take care of the forward posts. George Miles, sub center last year, is showing up mighty well this year and may break into the lineup at any time. If Miles is used at center, then it is likely that Kelly, who is a very valuable man will be used at a forward spot.

New Kensington high comes to New Castle with a reputation for clever basketball teams. For several years New Kensington has had little trouble in winning their section and have gone to the Pitt Stadium for the eliminations, but it has never been the pleasure of the New Castle quintet to tie-up with this Allegheny valley combination. One year the New Ken High took the W. P. I. A. L. title. "they all ways have a dangerous basketball team. Only recently New Ken High upset the fast Allegheny High team 20 to 17, and this was after Allegheny had subdued Butler 23 to 20.

In Waugh and Jeannette, New Kensington has a pair of clever forwards who scored eighteen points against Allegheny. Ross is also a star performer.

Look For Crowd.
Faculty Manager Ralph H. Gardner is looking for a big crowd at the opening game tonight. Gardner went to the expense of getting a first-class opponent for the locals in the lid lifter and hopes that the fans will support him. The admission prices for the games will be 15 cents for students. Adults 25 cents for general admission or 35 cents for reserved seats. These are the same prices that prevailed last year.

Westminster Ends Eastern Tour At Freeport Tonight

Nassau Collegians To Be Played; Babe O'Donovan May Play

(Special To The News)
NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Dec. 20.—Westminster college plays its fifth basketball game of its eastern trip tonight at the Freeport, L. I., high school gymnasium. The St. Johns college team, originally scheduled as the opponent, decided not to play when three of the regulars dropped out of school. As a result, the Nassau Collegians, a team composed of former college and preparatory school stars, will be met.

Lawler hopes to be able to experiment a bit in the lineup tonight, with the result that Bill Williams will probably be used at center; Bill Douglas and Wes Bennett at forward and Meider and Wilhelm at guard. The Long Island team will have a number of coaches on its lineup. It is possible that "Babe" O'Donovan, former Titan captain, will play for the Nassau team.

Following tonight's game, the Titans will return to New York City, and will leave early tomorrow morning for home. The holiday recess period starts tomorrow at the college, and the men will go home for Christmas, returning Dec. 26 for drills in preparation for the district campaign.

MICKEY'S NEW SUIT—LIKE IT?

Mickey Cochran, former star catcher of the Philadelphia Athletics, has beaten us all to it—he's wearing his new spring suit.

the uniform of the Detroit Tigers, which club he will manage in 1934. He was recently sold by the Athletics.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

Following a stay of several years in Cleveland, Tom McMahon, former bearcat of the heavyweights, has returned to the city and yesterday and today he was busy greeting his many friends. In his ring days he made many friends and being a regular fellow, he had the faculty of knowing how to retain the friendships he made. Tom fought all the best heavies of his time. He's not as youthful as he once was. His hair, once a jet black, is now sprinkled with gray, but there's one thing certain, and that is, when Big Tom, as he is known by his friends, gives you his hand, he means it.

Hearthly (Hunk) Anderson is enroute to Raleigh, N. C., to confer with North Carolina State college officials concerning a coaching position according to South Bend, Ind., reports.

Grove City college basketball team opened its season last night at the Grove City college floor by taking a close 30 to 29 victory over the Youngstown "Y" team, with Deems and Tomko starring.

Geneva college basketball team, enroute to the east, took a 42 to 27 setback at the hands of St. Thomas college.

LIGHT PULLS
Lights, especially those in the bathroom and in the child's bedroom, should have pulls or switches which he can reach. Where the switch is inaccessible, a light in each room should be made to function with a chain pull to which a long curtain string with a ring at the end can be attached.

GENE RE-ENTERS RING AS REFEREE

Gene Tunney, former heavyweight champion, once more crawls through the ropes onto the resined square, during the annual all sports dinner in New York—but he is serving in the capacity of a referee of an amateur bout, not as a fistie contender. Gene is secretary of the affair, staged for the New York city coal fund.

WOMAN'S DOG SAVES HER FROM ROBBER

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, Nov. 21—Teeth marks inflicted by a chow dog that leaped to the defense of the mistress is expected by police to lead to the arrest of a burglar.

Flourishing a gun, a man invaded the home of Miss Marie Smith and directed her to "stick 'em up and don't holler for cops."

As she complied, her pet dog, instinctively sensing something was wrong, dashed for the intruder. He fled but not in time to escape the snapping jaws of his pursuer.

Tin City Rovers To Play Farrell

Tin City Rovers Will Open Home Season With St. Michaels Of Farrell At Senior High

New Castle's Tin City Rovers basketball team composed of the Shenango and New Castle Tin Mill employees, and backed by the Employees' Representatives of both mills, will open their home basketball season Friday night at Senior high floor by meeting the fast St. Michaels of Farrell in a regular Penn-Ohio league game. Coach Arnold "Fiz" Fraser has the locals in tip-top shape for the opening setto.

The Tin City Rovers will have Gerald Newton in the lineup Friday night as he will be home from Pittsburgh for the holidays. He will play a forward along with Jimmy Shaffer and John Grommes.

Siljander In Lineup
Coach Fraser was fortunate in signing up Mauno "Whitey" Siljander to play with the Tin City Rovers, also Walter Hutchison of New Wilmington, who can play either a center or forward post. Siljander will play center along with Bruce Alexander. The guards will be taken care of by Art Sillman, Carl Gennock and Nelson Parker. In a few days Coach Fraser hopes to have another valuable man in the Tin City Rovers lineup.

"Horse" Gium will be the referee of the game Friday night. The Tin City Rovers have had season tickets printed at $1.00 each. There are 10 home games in the Penn-Ohio league with Butler, Farrell, Sharon, Youngstown and Beaver Falls. This is equivalent to 10 cents per game. The Rovers will also card several independent teams for the local floor.

Do's Leg Severed In Auto Accident

(International News Service)
WILLIAMSPORT, Dec. 20—The story of a deer that fled into the woods after one leg had been broken entirely off is being recounted here.

On a mountain road nearby Brady Hodge's car struck a doe and a fawn. The fawn was thrown into the air and landed upon the hard highway. The doe, dragged for thirty feet or more lay stunned in the road.

Before the occupants of the car could reach the injured animal, she had fled down a steep embankment on her three legs in company with the fawn. In the highway lay the lower part of the doe's leg.

A game warden was unable to find the deer.

Stock Market
Is Irregular

Price Changes Generally
Small In Market Today;
Trading Is Light

RAILROAD SHARES
SHOW IMPROVEMENT

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Dec. 20.—The stock market was again irregular today with price changes generally small. Trading was light.

A break in Union Bag & Paper carrying the stock down more than 7 points following news that the stock exchange was scrutinizing dealings in the issue served to unsettle the list to some extent.

The commodity markets failed to provide any stimulus for stocks. The grains markets lost from fractions to about a cent a bushel in light trading and cotton declined about 20 cents a bale.

Prime industrial shares including United States Steel, Bethlehem, and American Can were in fair demand and gained moderately. The motor shares also showed signs of better demand with Chrysler, Auburn, and General Motors gaining slightly.

Railroad shares were slightly improved under the lead of New York Central, and Union Pacific. Utility shares, though, failed to show any disposition to participate in any upturn as persistent pressure continued to be exerted on the group.

News from the business world was encouraging. Steel operations as viewed by iron age were seen as improving sharply with many mills unable to fill all orders before the year. Electric power production also showed a gain over the week before.

Fighting Visiting Quintet Wins Out 22-18 In Last Few Minutes Of Game

BAD SHOOTING CAUSE OF TUBER'S DEFEAT

ELLWOOD CITY, Dec. 20.—Coach Frederick brought a fighting Bessemer high quintet to Ellwood City last night that nooded out the Ellwood high passers 22-18 in a fast and thrilling game.

Ellwood's defeat was attributed to faulty shooting—that is, missing easy shots under the hoop.

The game was played on an even basis, neither team ever getting a commanding lead. The score was 8-5 at the end of the first quarter for Bessemer, 13-11 at half-time for Ellwood and 16-18 at the close of the third quarter.

The final chapter was fast and furious with many shots being attempted from all angles of the floor. Marshall first broke the tie with a free throw. Bunny then put Ellwood out in front with a field goal. Marshall knotted the count with another free throw, at 18 all. DeArment placed Bessemer in the lead with a shot from under the hoops with just two minutes to play. Tammara dribbled the length of the floor and made a field goal, only to have the referee disallow it. DeArment sewed the game up with another field goal from under the basket, making the final score 22-18.

DeArment and Glass were the chief threats for the Ellwood men with 4 and 3 baskets respectively. Vandrello and Bunny were the best for Ellwood.

Award Scholarship Cups At Westminster

(Special To The News)
NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Dec. 20.—Members of the non-fraternity and non-sorority groups were awarded cups for maintaining the highest averages yesterday at Westminster College. Both of the unorganized groups had higher averages than those of the organizations.

The regulation governing these awards is that in case the fraternities or the sororities have higher averages than the non-fraternity and non-sorority groups, the highest ranking organization among the fraternities and sororities receives the cups. If, however, the non-fraternity or the non-sorority group have higher averages than the organizations, the cups go to the unorganized students.

For the non-fraternity group the average was 1.495 out of a possible 3 while the fraternity average was 1.267. The average for 11 men of the college was 1.336. Epsilon Theta Pi fraternity led the groups with an average of 1.550. Others in order were: Phi Pi Phi, 1.460; Theta Upsilon Omega, 1.273; Delta Phi Sigma, 1.142; and Kappa Phi Lambda, 1.093. The girls not affiliated with organizations had an average of 1.651 while the Sorority average was 1.640 and the average for all women was 1.645. Alpha Gamma Delta led the sororities with 1.765. Others in order were Chi Omega, 1.726; Kappa Delta, 1.683; Kappa Alpha Alpha, 1.591; Sigma Kappa, 1.493; and Theta Upsilon, 1.477.

For the fourth year in succession students, both sorority and non-sorority maintained higher averages than men students either fraternity or non-fraternity.
